

Lynnette Ramirez

Lynnette Ramirez is Head of Development at Bassett Vance Productions, which she joined following her tenure as a senior development executive at 20k, a CBS Television Studios Co. Prior to that, she consulted at Very Tall Productions, producers of the Facebook Watch's "Red Table Talk." From 2012 to 2016, Ramirez was senior vice president of original content for Fuse Media, where she oversaw all new and returning series for the network. She also served as senior vice president of development and production for George Lopez Presents, as well as has produced her own original independent features.